BANKER FLEEING TO MEXICO

STENSLAND SEEN BY ACQUAINT-ANCE AT FORT WORTH.

Wrecker of Chicago Institution Was Making His Way Toward the Border-Said He Was Going Into the Mountains-Forgeries and Thefts Reach $2,000,000.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 10 .- Paul Stensland, the missing president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank of Chicago, was in Fort Worth to-day. According to Henry V. Adams; a former Chicago commission broker, he is on his way to Mexico. Adams said he travelled all the way from New Orleans to this city with the absconding banker and did not know that his bank had failed until he read an account of it here. Stensland, he said, aside from being slightly nervous, gave no indication that anything was wrong.

Stensland told Adams he was going to Mexico on a pleasure trip, saying he thought trip into the mountains would be good for his health.

When asked how his bank was progressing he declared it to be in a most prosperous

When this city was reached Adams and Stensland left the train, Stensland saying he needed rest before continuing his journey. He asked Adams to wait in the lobby of the station until he visited the baggage room to inquire about his trunk. Adams waited, but Stensland never returned.

The police of El Paso, Laredo and Eagle Pass are on the watch for the banker. CHICAGO, Aug. 10 .- With the discovery to-day of new forgeries among the paper held in the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank the further statements of Cashier Henry W. Hering concerning loans made by Stensland, as banker, to himself, individually, and the shortages found by previous investigation, it is now charged that Paul C. Stensland, president of the bank, stole $2,000,000.

Notes aggregating more than $500,000, the signatures of which have been pronounced forgeries, were unearthed in the vaults of the bank by Cashier Hering to-day. Stacks of notes in blank, as to amount, with signatures already forged, and ready to be filled in for any amount desired, were also found.

The blank note forms, similar to those upon which money had been realized by Stensland at his will, were, in the opinion of Assistant State's Attorney Olson, to have been used in stripping the bank of $500,000 more had the president had time to do so.

With every hour of the investigation by the police and State's Attorney, Cashier Hering aiding, new evidences of the wild and reckless raids of Stensland upon the funds of the bank, it is alleged, were brought to light. When the stack of apparently forged notes was found detectives immediately. ately visited each person whose name was attached to a note and ascertained that the signatures were forgeries.

The Cooperative Store, opposite the bank, which was controlled by Stensland, felt the effects of the financial crash to-day, when application was made in the Federal Court for the appointment of a receiver. Chief Collins said this evening that he had received no news concerning the whereabouts of Paul O. Stensland.

Cashier Hering explained to-day that whatever ready money was needed one or more of the blank notes was filled and demore of the blank notes was filled and de-posited in the bank to some account. If to Stensland's account then the president would draw out cash and charge it to his account which had been swollen by the

In the one envelope were found about 200 notes properly filled out, but which it is declared bear forged signatures. Hering called the attention of the authorities to the fact that the signatures were in black while the notes were written in blue

There were other dark developments to-day. Concerning the mortgages on the Stensland property, John C. Fetser, receiver for the bank, said it was doubtful if many of them are good and thereby cast a doubt on the entire assets of the bank. At the same time a representative of the receiver for the personal estate of Paul O. Stensland made a estatement that the estate probably made a statement that the estate probably ll not reach the value of $600,000, at which it has been estimated.

After a sweating of Hering in the bank and the examination of the notes, Inspector Shippy said:

"The thing is a good deal worse than I had supposed. We have proved that $500,000 worth of the paper is forged. One note for $20,000, bearing the signature of F. S. Peabody was examined by him. He said it was not his signature."

Receiver Fetzer's statement was this:

There are $1.500,000 worth of mortgages, the value of which we know nothing about. Considering the developments of the day in regard to the other securities, it is doubtful if these mortgages will prove good."

Just before the close of the day Receiver Fetzer announced that he would consult with Judge Brentano with a view of making arrangements to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. to depositers as soon as possible, probably within two weeks. Milwaukee avenue merchants complain that serious financial embarrassment will fall upon them unless relief by a small dividend is

MISSOURI CAMPAIGN OPENED. Senator Warner Speaks at Springfield to Crowd of 2,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.; Aug. 10 .- The Republican campaign opened here to-day. Although excursion rates had been granted on all the lines into Springfield, only a small number of visitors arrived. Secretary of the Treasury Shaw was expected this morning, but telegraphed that he would not arrive until night.

Senator Warner of Missouri arrived on schedule time and spent most of the morning meeting local Republican leaders. Senator Warner spoke this afternoon in a large tent He was introduced by J. P. Tracy, formerly a Congressman from the Seventh district. About 2,000 were present. Senator Warner refrained from the discussion of specific questions other than the tariff and dwelt tensively upon prosperity as a result Republican rule in the United States. conclusion, the Senator said, speaking resident Roosevelt:

ARMED WOMEN ON GUARD.

One Has a Repeating Rifle and the Other Passaic, N. J., Aug. 10 .- A boundary line dispute between property owners is exciting the village of Clifton. All the afternoon in a drizzling rain two women who had a shotgun and a repeating rifle sat over post holes dug earlier in the day by men employed by Mrs. E. Godfrey and prevented them from building a fence. Mrs. Godfrey recently bought a large tract of property in the centre of Clifton adjoining the estate of the late Henry P. Simmons. The Simmons property has been divided and part of it has been sold off in building lots. One of these lots next to the land bought by Mrs. Godfrey is owned by Andrew Wilson, a letter carrier.

This morning when Wilson came home from making an early collection of mail he found men digging post holes on his lawn and learned that Mrs. Godfrey was about to erect a fence, claiming to own the property to and passing through Wilson's door yard close to his house. Wilson ordered the men away and when they refused to obey he went to the house and returned with a shotgun, threatening to shoot if they did not leave his property. The digging was stopped, but as soon as the letter carrier left the men began again.

It was then that Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Henry Simmons, whose husbands own the adjoining property, came out, one with a shotgun and the other with a repeating rifle. They brought chairs with them and sat over two post holes and again ordered the men away. Again the work stopped, but the women retained their places until Meanwhile Henry Simmons, who owns a large part of the estate and conducts an ice business, went to Jersey City to consult his lawyers regarding the boundary. Deeds and surveys were looked up and Mr. Simmons was advised that the workmen were trespassing on the Simmons property and was told to protect his rights.

Guards relieved Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Simmons at dark to watch the property during the night. The land in dispute has been in possession of the Simmons family thirty-six years.

STATEN ISLAND IN DARKNESS. Cause, No Moon -Can't Depend on Artificial Lighting Now.

During the week or more since Richmond borough ceased to have its streets illuminated artificially there has been a full moon and the clouds have given it a show. Last night a veil of thick clouds shut off the light of the moon and stars and the streets of the borough were in total darkness. The only exception was where some public spirited citizen possessed of a bullseye lantern lighted it and set it at his front door, so that he and his friends might not break their necks at that particular spot.

Most nights, also, since the shut down of the lights the arc lights have burned on the principal streets, but they were out last night. It was so dark that persons could not see each other until within ten or less feet. The sidewalks were dangerous in many places and pedestrians had to take to the middle of the streets. All over the island people who had to be out carried lanterns.

The trolley cars ran steadily.

CITY ISLAND WILL CELEBRATE

The Coming of Twins to the Crannas, Make ing a Family Roster of Nineteen.

On August 19 Patrick Cranna, a citizen of City Island and a member of Engine Company 78 of that suburb, together with wife, Rose, and his children, will hold a blowout such as City Island has not witnessed since Dewey won the battle of Manila Bay. The christening of the last pair of Cranna twins, Francis and Thomas, aged 3 weeks, will be the occasion for the celebration. Mr. Cranna and his wife, Rose, have been blessed with a large fa married June 18, 1887. Since that time the following entries in the census report from City Island have been regularly tabulated: Kate, 18 years; James, 16; of the South Danvers National Bank in the May, 15; Rose, 14; John, 12; Joseph, 11; misappropriation of the funds of the in-Charles, 9; Philip, 6; Willie and Marion stitution, was to-day sentenced to nine (twins), 4; George and Grace (twins), 3; Patrick, 2; Francis and Thomas (twins), 3

Mr. Cranna says that the coming of the twins has been a pleasant surprise. Of the family four nave not lived to see the christening of Francis and Thomas. The names of these, with the cause of the removal from this sphere of each, are tabulated as follows: Kate, died following a fall; Joseph, drowned; Philip, drowned; Willie, watermelon.

The programme for the christening festivities that are to liven up City Island on August 19 is an elaborate one. Details have been taken out of the hands of the proud father by solicitous friends, who give out the following as the order of march to the church:

The vamps of Engine Company 78 in red shirts and with a hose cart, the most recent instalment of Cranna twins, Francis and Thomas, in a perambulator, decked with red, white and blue baby ribbon and propelled by the most distinguished doctor in City Island; Mrs. Cranna in a carriage, the Cranna children on foot and carriage, supported by friends: the City Island band. the Cranna children on foot and carrying flags; Mr. Cranna in a second carriage, supported by friends; the City Island band, playing "The Hand That Rocks the Cradle." Mr. Cranna promises that after the christening there will be a large time in the Cranna home. He has already let the contract for la three room addition to the north side of the house, and he says that the south side could stand a two room addition without impairing its architectural beauty should necessity arise. beauty should necessity arise.

Fire Leaves Forty Families Homeless.

OTTAWA, Ont.; Aug. 10.-Forty families are homeless as the result of a fire in Hull across the river, to-day. House after house was licked up in rapid time. Every struct-ure was frame. The loss will be around $60,000, as there were some groceries and small stores burned out. Most of the houses were laborers' dwellings.

The Weather.

The approaching storm area was central over Lake Huron yesterday, spreading cloudiness, thunderstorms and generally rainy conditions over the Lake regions, middle Atlantic and New England States. The heaviest rainfalls occurred in Wis consin and Michigan.

In the Gulf States and in Northwestern sections the pressure was high and the weather generally the pressure was in the fair except for local thunderstorms in the Missouri Valley. In the extreme Southwest the pressure

It was a little cooler in western New York, but in most other sections east of the Mississippt the changes were slight. From the Dakotas south to o and Kansas warmer weather prevailed. ### INDEPENDENT ICE MEN HEARD

GRAND JURY NOT SO SURE THERE WASN'T A CONSPIRACY.

If Sufficient Evidence Can Be Obtained Indictments Will Be Filed-Inquiry to Be Searching and Rigid, Foreman Karsch Says - A Presentment Anyway.

Two witnesses were examined yesterday by the Grand Jury in the ice inquiry. They were William Brennan of the Williamson & Brennan Ice Company, at 155th street and the Harlem River, and James Scott, president of the National Ice Company. They are independent dealers and are said not to be affiliated with the American Ice Company in any way.

It is believed that Mr. Brennan and Mr. Scott gave testimony that may be important in determining what the independent dealers know about the present price of ice. Although it could not be learned what they testified to, it is understood that the Grand Jury is not so strong now in the opinion that there was not a criminal conspiracy to put the price of ice at an exorbitant figure. If there is sufficient evidence indictments will be filed. This will be determined not only by oral but by documentary evidence. Foreman Karsch of the Grand Jury had a conference yesterday morning with Judge Rosalsky of General Sessions. Before going into the Grand Jury room he was asked by the reporters about the ice investigation. Mr. Karsch, who seemed to think that the public believed that the Grand Jury did not intend to make a thorough inquiry,

"This investigation which the Grand Jury is conducting is not a perfunctory effort, as some persons seem to think. It is to be a searching and rigid inquiry in an earnest endeavor to get at the truth and to find out if a criminal conspiracy exists. If it is found that there was a criminal conspiracy those who are responsible will be held to

The Grand Jury will continue its investigation next week, but no witnesses have been subposned for Monday. Wesley M. Oler, president of the American Ice Company, may be called again as a witness. It is understood he has given the District Attorney some further information, and he also will be questioned concerning the testimony of other witnesses.

A presentment is being prepared by the Grand Jury which will be handed to Judge Rosalsky when the ice inquiry is concluded. In the presentment will be set forth some of the information gathered by the Grand Jury in regard to the shortage of ice and a caution about unnecessary waste in order to stave off a possible famine.

NEW LONDON, Aug. 10 .- Gould Brokaw's yawl Sybarita was disabled by a collision with an unidentified schooner near Cornfield light early this morning. The steamer Yuma towed her into this port for repairs. Her machinery was damaged.

The Sybarita was on the way from New York to Newport. Shortly after midnight the sparking batteries worked sluggishly, the gasolene supply was short and the captain and engineer aboard decided the captain and engineer aboard decided to anchor until daylight.

At 4 o'clock they were suddenly awakened by a schooner crashing into their boat. The blow was a glancing one, but had sufficient force to smash the bow of the smaller craft.

The steamer Yuma of the Chelsea Line, bound from New York for New London, picked up the Sybarita and towed her to this harbor at 8 o'clock this morning. After making repairs she will proceed to Newport. The Sybarita's captain says his anchor lights were burning brightly when the schonoer ran him down. the schonoer ran him down.

MRS. CHAS. EMORY SMITH DEAD. Wife of the Former Postmaster-General

Stricken at Block Island. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—The funeral of Mrs. Charles Emory Smith, whose sudden death at Block Island was announced yesterday, will take place next Monday at her late home, at an hour to be announced later. Mr. Smith arrived this evening on the Colonial express, coming direct from Block Island. Many letters and telegrams of condolance were received from friends in all parts of the country. Mrs. Smith, whose maiden name was Ella Huntley, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Huntley of Albany, N. Y., where she was born and which city was still the home of her family when she was where she was born and which city was still the home of her family when she was married, June 30, 1863.

During her residence in Albany after her marriage, while Mr. Smith was editor of the Albany Evening Journal, Mrs. Smith was well known in the society of the New York capital. She came to this city with Mr. Smith in 1880 and had here a wide circle of friends, though for four years since her return from Washington her growing ill health forced her to lead a retired life. She was not supposed to be in serious danger until the sudden attack of heart failure three weeks ago at Block Island, where she was spending the summer. Mr. Smith joined her there and was with her until her death, which came suddenly when her recovery seemed near.

Mrs. Smith was widely known in Albany; Washington, Philadelphia and abroad. While Mr. Smith was United States Minister to Russia (1890-92) she presided over the American Legation at St. Petersburg, and she was conspicuous in the social life of Washington during the four years, 1898 to 1902, when Mr. Smith was Postmaster-General.

As one of the women of the Cabinet, she was brought into close personal relations with President and Mrs. McKinley and Vice-President and Mrs. McKinley and Vice-President and Mrs. Hobart.

Called to long contact and acquaintance with the leading figures in life here and at Washington for many years, Mrs. Smith was universally esteemed and displayed through her long career a social poise, acumen and tact which made her judgment and advice in public affairs valuable to all who shared it

MONICH HANGED.

Murdered Mrs. Decker Because She Refused His Attentions.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Aug. 10.-Leaning on the arms of two attendants and quaking with fear, Samuel Monich, a Hungarian was taken to the gallows in the court yard here this morning and hanged for the murder of Mrs. Harriet Kayhart Decker of der of Mrs. Harriet Rayhart Decker of Montville. When in sight of the gibbet he made a confession. He leaves a widow and children in Hungary. His crime was committed on January 17./ He had become infatuated with Mrs. Decker and on learning she did not care for his company planned to kill her. He fired three shots at her while she was in her father's back yard and then turned the weapon upon himself inflicting several bullet wounds in his breast but he recovered.

Thenton, N. J., Aug. 10.—At the same hour that Monich was hanged to-day there was filed here in the Court of Errors an opinion sustaining the verdict of the court below and refusing him the stay for which be had pleaded.

DEMOCRATS ASKED FOR $1 EACH. Chairman Griggs Calls for Contributions to Win in the House. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-Chairman James M. Griggs of the Democratic Congressional committee to-day started the wheels in motion to collect dollar subscriptions from the Democrats of the country. He began by sending out 30,000 circulars to as many persons who put up $1 apiece for the Bryan campaign in 1900. The circular is written in the fluent style characteristic of Chairman Griggs. It says:

"To all Democratio voters: If there ever was a time in the history of the Democratio party for a manifestation of loyalty and patrioti m on the part of its members it is right now. If we are to win a victory and elect a President two years hence we must first elect a House of Representa-tives this fall. A Democratic House can and will investigate every department of the Government. With all of these honey-combed with 'graft,' the edges of which only have been touched by recent exposures and prosecutions, there will be a revela-tion of rottenness that will astound the country and create a demand for a Demoratic Administration to clean the Government workshop.

"To win the House we need money to "To win the House we need money to defray legitimate expenses to get our vote. We have no protected monopolies from which to draw to fill our coffers as they do those of the Republican party. We must therefore appeal to loyal Democrats for contributions.

"Will you send us $1 at once and in return for this we will send you copies of our campaign literature issued by the committee. You will have the thanks of the entire Democratic party for your favorable re-

Democratic party for your favorable response to our request."

Copies of the circular will be forwarded to-morrow to 3,500 weekly Democratio papers with the request that they publish it. The officers of the committee expect a prompt response from the faithful and believe that the war chest will be well filled by dollar subscriptions.

WHITNEY DOESN'T WANT TO RUN. Massachusetts Democratic Leader Speaks

Emphatically of the Governorship. BOSTON, Aug. 10.—"I don't want it! I don't want it!" exclaimed Henry M. Whitney to-day when asked about the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He spoke emphatically and decisively, and there is not the slightest doubt that he spoke sincerely.

"The cause; the business principle involved in Canadian reciprocity and tariff voived in canadian reciprodity and tarin' revision is what I have at heart," continued Mr. Whitney. "I did not want to make the fight for Lieutenant-Governor last fall, but I was compelled to. Of course, I cannot now absolutely and positively say that under no conceivable circumstances would I consent to run. But I don't want it, that's all."

"Is it true, as reported, that you ever told Gov. Guild that you would not run against him?"
"It is not true, and the Governor would not say that I did."

Cockran May Not Help Welcome Bryan. W. Bourke Cockran, writing from Lake Tahoe, Cal., in a letter received yesterday by the Bryan reception committee, said: "It is possible that absence from New York city may prevent me from participating personally in the ceremonies, but you may be assured of my cordial sympathy with everything credited to express the regard entertained by all good citizens, and especially by all Democrats, for the virtues, civic and personal, of this distinguished American.

NADAGE DOREE AFTER LOEB.

SAYS PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY WAS CAUSE OF HER ARREST.

Thinks $50,000 Damages Will About Square Matters-She Wrote a Book and Tried to Have It Given to President, Heping It Would Lead Him to Help Jews in Russia

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 10.—Secretary Loeb was served to-day with a summons in a suit for $50,000 damages. Miss Nadage Doree, the plaintiff, alleges that he was the cause of her arrest when she tried to see President Roosevelt in Washington last October. Miss Doree's lawyer is K. Henry Rosenberg of New York.

The papers were served on the secre tary at the Executive offices in Oyster Bay this morning by Samuel Bernstein, a clerk in Lawyer Rosenberg's office.

When Secretary Loeb was questioned about the suit he denied that he had had anything to do with Miss Doree's arrest. He said she had been arrested by the Washington police while she was distributing circulars in front of St. John's Church on a Sunday. If she had any case for false imprisonment, said the secretary, it was against the chief of police in Washington. The secretary will be defended by Attorney-General Moody or some attorney appointed by him from the Department of Justice.

Mr. Rosenberg said yesterday that Miss Dorée, on October 8, in Washington, attended St. John's Church, where Mrs. Roosevelt usually goes, hoping to get a chance to speak to Mrs. Roosevelt. She had seen Mr. Loeb the day before and had found that she could not see the President. She wanted to give a copy of her book to the President on condition that he would read it. Her book is entitled "Jesus's Christianity, by a Jewess." Miss Dorée felt sure that if the President should read her book he would be persuaded that he ought to aid the Jews in Russia.

"So when she found that she could not see the President," continued Mr. Rosenberg, "she decided to see his wife and get her to hand the President the book. Our client waited for Mrs. Rosevelt to appear. Instead a patrol wagon drove to the door and she was hustled into it. She was looked up for twenty-eight hours and then discharged, without trial.

"What does she charge against Loeb? Why, that he caused her arrest. No, he wasn't there. But he might have telephoned to the police, don't you see? Of course his connection with the arrest is what we will have to prove."

Circulars got out by Miss Dorée contain commendations of the book. The Rev. Madison C. Peters stands among its admirers in this city. England is represented by George Washington Moon.

Lawyer Rosenberg did not know much about the authoress personally. He understood that she was born down South, say 27 years ago. She believes in the uplifting of the masses.

Local Oarsmen Hold the Argonauts Until 300 Yards From the Finish-Metropolitans Trim Seawanhakas in Pair Oared Race at National Regatta.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 10.—The Na-tional Association of Amateur Oarsmen egan its thirty-fourth annual regatta here day on Lake Quinsigamond, and about half the programme was disposed of. The water was smooth and in good condition nice blade work, but all the afternoon the lake and the surrounding hills enveloped in a thick mist which had a de panks. With the exception of the intermediate eight shell all the races were rowed with a turn, three-quarters of a mile each way, and the start and finish were at the same eight shell, with such crack crews as the

and the Wachusetts. After the boats out in motion the Argonauts took the lead, closely attended by the Wachusetts and New Yorks in the order named. When about a mile of the course had been traversed the Canadians were leading by & length and the two other crews were then pulling level.

Three hundred yards from home the New Yorks drew level with the Argonauts, but the latter spurted, drew away slightly and won by three-quarters of a length. The Wachusetts were a length and a half behind The race for the intermediate four shell opened the day's sport and only two crews had aspirations for the title-the Nonpareil Rowing Club of New York and St. Alphonsus Club of Boston. The Nonpareils were the

and the three turned nearly on even terms. On the way home O'Neil collared Fuessel, but the first to caton the water, and before loo yards he first to caton the water, and before loo yards he first to caton the water, and before loo yards he first to caton the water, and before loo yards he first to caton the water, and before loo yards he first to caton the water, and before loo yards he first to caton the water, and before loo yards he first to caton the water, and before loo yards he can be an advance of the Bostonians. Almos at every stroke to the turning flag the Nonparells drew further away and made the turn four lengths in the lead. When they came about for home the St. Alphonsus were interfered with by a canoe and took a tack toward the Strewood. For the last quarter of a mile the Nonparells paddled as they liked and won by about twenty lengths.

Four crews, the New York A. C., Seawanhakas went ahadd on about even terms. The Seawanhakas were the favorites and there was great surprise when it was seen that the Meets were holding the normal part of the part of the great the great the part of the great the gre the card, but Jimmy Ten Eyck, Jr., made eleven, for he started in the first heat, though his name was not on the programme. The strong tip in this heat was Wood of Philadelphia, but both Wood and Ten Eyck were greatly surprised by the form shown by Harry Bennett of Springfield, and he fought every linch of the way with McGee of Toronto, and finally defeated the Canuck by half a length. Durando Miller of the New York A. C., was a good third, with Wood a poor fourth and Ten Eyck bringing up the rear.

Fred Fuessel of the Harlem Rowing Club showed fine form in the second heat and led his opponent at a merry clip, but facing the turning stake Vesely of the Bohemians, and O'Neill of Halifax, drew up on the Harlemite, and the three turned nearly on even terms. On the way home O'Neill collared Fuessel, but about 300 yards from the line Vesely shot past O'Neill and won by two lengths. Fuessel was fourth and Stokes of Philadelphia last.

The closest race of the day was the senior four shell, the starters being the Metropolitan of New York, Ravenswood of Long Island and the Portland R. C., of Portland, Ore. They broke to an even start and rowed blade for blade to the turn, around which the Ravenswoods had a slight advantage. When the three boats were headed for home it was nip and tuck all the way, the Ravenswoods winning by about four feet from the Portlands, with the Metropolitans a balf a length behind.
